

SEARCH YOUR HOMES FOR SATANIC ROSARIES

While helping a family in California whose son, around 17 years, was being lifted in the air and thrown across the room repeatedly, we discovered they had many satanic rosaries in their home. The young man was taken several times to the emergency room, but the family had a hard time explaining where he received such abuse. Even their local priest told the boy that demons were not picking him up and throwing him across the room and that he was suffering from mental illness. If your priest refuses to believe there are demons in the world, report him to the Bishop!

I have found so many satanic rosaries in good Catholic homes, given to them from very holy shrines or church bookstores! If you discover any Catholic establishment offering these demonic rosaries, tell them. If they refuse to remove them, then report them to the Bishop! Wake up Catholics, your house has been invaded by many demons, but you can recognize these rosaries! Look carefully, look for the snake behind Jesus' head and a sun with rays coming from the sun! The satanic rosary below is a glow-in-the-dark! —Anna Marie

Exorcist priest warns against 'satanic' rosaries

Posted by Minnie Agdeppa | Sep 4, 2017 | ★★★★★

(L) Actual photo of the rosary confiscated during a recent infestation case of Libera Nox which, according to Novaliches chief exorcist Fr. Ambrosio Nonato Legaspi, is a "satanic" rosary. (R) When the photo's levels are adjusted to make it dimmer using an image editor, the supposed Illuminati insignia of the sun with its rays and the snake at the back of the Crucified Christ becomes visible to the naked eye. Legaspi warned the faithful about such satanic rosaries that are now in circulation the country. PHOTO COURTESY OF LIBERA NOX

Exorcist priest warns against 'satanic' rosaries

Posted by Minnie Agdeppa | Sep 4, 2017 | ★★★★★

(L) Actual photo of the rosary confiscated during a recent infestation case of Libera Nox which, according to Novaliches chief exorcist Fr. Ambrosio Nonato Legaspi, is a "satanic" rosary. (R) When the photo's levels are adjusted to make it dimmer using an image editor, the supposed Illuminati insignia of the sun with its rays and the snake at the back of the Crucified Christ becomes visible to the naked eye. Legaspi warned the faithful about such satanic rosaries that are now in circulation the country. PHOTO COURTESY OF LIBERA NOX