

ARE WIZARD DEMONS ATTACHED TO WITCHCRAFT BOOKS?

While attending college many years ago, I was given the assignment to write and present a speech for class and selected the topic, "Rock Music and It's Effects". During my research, I discovered that when some music albums were being created in the recording studio, musicians had the option of consecrating their work on an altar to Satan so that their music would sell and become profitable. Though surprised to discover that altars to Satan were set up in the studios, I wasn't alarmed that most of the evil music on the radio during that time, expressed satanic lyrics in various ways.

Never forgetting my prior research and findings, in March 2004 a friend called me on the telephone and told me she was not feeling well. For a few months she felt depressed, anxious and spiritually oppressed by an evil presence. As we were talking, the Lord placed it in my heart to pray with her because there was a demon spirit that was troubling her. So I asked her if we could pray, she agreed and we began and after we prayed she said she did feel better.

Then the Lord placed on my heart that there was a demonic spirit in her apartment and that I should say a "Cleansing Prayer" throughout her apartment to exorcise the demon. I shared this with her, and she agreed because she knew something was wrong. We immediately began praying and the Lord showed me a vision, it was a stack of books on a bookshelf. I asked her if she had books sitting on a bookshelf. She said, "Yes, in every room because I'm in college." I told her that we should begin in any room she wanted and that we would bless each wall in each room with holy water.

She went into her bedroom first and we prayed a cleansing prayer, on each wall. When I asked the Lord if the demon was gone, He indicated it was not. So we went into the bathroom, and repeated our previous actions. Then the next room and so on. Each time we finished a room, I asked the Lord if her apartment was clean, was the demon gone but the Lord continued to prompt me to pray in the next room.

With eyes closed, sitting in my chair at home and on the phone, my friend went into the second to the last room in her apartment. When she entered the room, I saw a strange vision: a huge rock with a sword in it with just the handle exposed; plus two hexagon shaped crystals (one blue, the other orange). I began to recite a cleansing prayer as she was blessing the walls with holy water. When we had finished, I asked the Lord again was her apartment now clean, but the Lord was letting me know it was not.

I asked her to go into the last room in her apartment and when she did, a huge demonic Wizard appeared in front of me, standing on and attached to a book and I cried out to my friend, "You have a Wizard in your home!". I described the Wizard, with a long gray beard and wearing blue clothes with satanic symbols on it, such as a half-moon, etc. The clothes came to the ground and this Wizard was wearing a tall pointy hat with a wand in his right hand.

My friend knew exactly why the Wizard was there, her sister had given her three Harry Potter books for Christmas and they were sitting on her bookshelf surrounded by other books (just as the vision from God was seen). I told her to immediately place those books into a plastic bag and get it out of her apartment because the Wizard demon was attached to the books and that the demon or demons would not depart unless the book or books was out of her apartment. I felt I could not continue the cleansing and blessing of the walls and room with holy water until the books were out of her apartment.

So she followed my advice and did exactly as instructed. I continued the cleansing and blessing prayers and the demon Wizard departed from her apartment. We invited the Holy Spirit to once again dwell in her home and she felt peace instantly. The following day while reflecting on the matter, the Lord placed it in my heart the research I had previously completed in college. I realized then that the Harry Potter books could be consecrated to Satan.

As children of God who are trying to follow the Gospels of Jesus Christ, the Lord lets us know and helps us understand when evil invades our lives in some way, like when lights go on or off by itself, books falling off a bookshelf, footsteps being heard at night when everyone is in bed, children not sleeping well because they are terrified and afraid to go to bed, etc. I believe we should always listen to our children when they indicate something is scaring them or if they witness seeing a dark shadow in your home.
